Work Experience

InvestorHub, Product Designer

August 2021 - Current

As a product designer at InvestorHub, my role is to help create and iterate our SaaS platform for a B2B environment. Employing a human-centred design approach, I've designed solutions that aims to tackle the core problem of the user while keeping in line with InvestorHub's vision and mission. In my time here, I've overseen projects from end-to-end and have experience in maintaining design systems.

Design Project

Batyr, UX/UI Designer

April 2021

As part of the Academy Xi curriculum, I had participated in a client project with Batyr in a team of 6 designers. Batyr has an app that helps support mental health and were looking for ways to enhance the story recording experience, so that more users would be willing to share their story. My role in the project was to lead the user interface design and to understand how interactions and animations could be used to positively affirm the users of the app.
